Section 2.2 Representations and Warranties of Company. Company hereby represents and warrants to Exhibitor as follows:

ARTICLE III

PAYMENT PROCEDURES

Section 3.1 Payment Procedures. The Company will bill the Exhibitor monthly and payment of monthly invoices shall be payable within thirty (30) days of the invoice date. The company accepts payments by bank check, bank transfer, credit card, or PayPal. Company reserves the right to change the rates set forth in the Services Agreement upon sixty (60) days of written notice to the Exhibitor effective after the first twelve (12) months of Service. If Exhibitor elects to reject the rate adjustment, Exhibitor must provide Company written notice of its rejection of rate increase no less than (30) days prior to such rate adjustment taking effect, Company may elect to terminate this Agreement within ten (10) business days of rejection notice by Exhibitor.

Section 3.2 Liquidated Damages. The Parties agree that due to the nature of the Agreement, the payments to be made by Exhibitor for the term of this Agreement pursuant to the Services Agreement form an integral part of Company's anticipated profits; that in the event of Exhibitor's default it would be difficult if not impossible to Company's actual damages. Therefore, in the event Exhibitor defaults in the payment of any charges to be paid to Company, the balance of all payments for the entire term herein shall immediately become due and payable, and Exhibitor shall be liable for the full amount due for the Term of the Agreement in addition to the liquidated damages provided for herein. The parties acknowledge that the liquidated damages set forth above are reasonable in amount and that any dispute or potential dispute over actual damages would be disruptive to the business of the parties so that it is in both parties' best interest to have determined the amount of such reasonable liquidated damages. Parties waive trial by jury in any action between them. In any action commenced by Company against Exhibitor, Exhibitor shall not be permitted to interpose any counterclaim. Any action by Exhibitor against Company must be commenced within one (1) year of the accrual of the cause of action or shall be barred. All actions or proceedings against the Company must be based on the provisions of this Agreement. Any other action that Exhibitor may have or bring against the Company in respect to other services rendered in connection with this Agreement shall be deemed to have merged in and be restricted to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Should Company prevail in any litigation between the Parties Exhibitor shall pay Company's legal fee. Further, in any action to collect fee associated with the processing of Services the Exhibitor shall pay all costs associated therewith, including but not limited to legal and court fee.

ARTICLE IV TERMINATION

Section 4.1 Termination for Cause. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Agreement may be terminated by either party immediately if either party: (i) becomes insolvent; (ii) files a petition in bankruptcy; (iii) makes an assignment for the benefit of its creditors; or (iv) breaches any of its obligations under this Agreement in any material respect, which breach is not remedied within thirty (30) days following written notice to the other party.

Section 4.2 Early Termination for Convenience. Exhibitor reserves the right to terminate any Service included in this Agreement, or this Agreement in its entirety, for cause or no cause with thirty (30) day written notice to Company. In the event of any such termination, in whole or in part, Exhibitor agrees to pay, within thirty (30) days of termination date, its outstanding account balance and one hundred percent (100%) of all fees due to the Company through the conclusion of the then-current Term. In the event that such fees due are variable, e.g. ticketing fees, the average of the previous three (3) months of fees will determine the fees due. If fewer than three (3) months of variable fees are available, Exhibitor agrees to present any available historical data to determine the amount due to the Company.

Section 4.3 Termination Upon Sale of Exhibitor. In the event that Exhibitor is sold or acquired during the Term of this Agreement, notice will be communicated to Company in a timely written manner, not to exceed thirty (30) days of such an occurrence. If successors choose not to continue this Agreement, then upon such notice, (i) all open invoices for Company Services rendered to Exhibitor will become immediately due and payable by Exhibitor or successors; and (ii) through the end of the then-current Term of this Agreement, successors will continue to be invoiced for, and pay, per Section 3.1, all fixed recurring fees contained in the Services Agreement.

ARTICLE V INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

Section 5.1 Intellectual Property. Except for any rights expressly granted under this Agreement (i) nothing in this Agreement will function to transfer any of either Party's intellectual property rights (hereinafter referred to as "Intellectual Property Rights" or "IPR") to the other Party, and (ii) each Party will retain exclusive interest and ownership of its Intellectual Property developed before this Agreement or developed outside the scope of this Agreement. Exhibitor retains IPR over all content, graphics and any other content originated or created by Exhibitor and incorporated into the Services in the Services Agreement. Exhibitor, at its own expense, will indemnify, defend and hold harmless Company, its affiliates and their employees, representatives, agents and affiliates, against any claim, suit, action, or other proceeding brought against such party to the extent based on or arising from (a) a claim that the Showtime Data (as defined in the Services Agreement), movie information including but not limited to movie image(s), movie trailers and movie synopsis (collectively “Movie Metadata”), or any Exhibitor brand feature is inaccurate or infringes in any manner any intellectual property right of any third party or contains any material or information that is obscene or defamatory, or that violates any person’s right of privacy, or (b) Exhibitor’s failure to comply with all applicable laws with respect to publication of any Showtime Data or Movie Metadata; provided, however, that in any such case: (i) Company provides Exhibitor with prompt notice of any such claim; (ii) Company permits Exhibitor to assume and control the defense of such action, with counsel chosen by Exhibitor; and (iii) Exhibitor does not enter into any settlement or compromise of any such claim without Company’s prior written consent, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. If Company does not assume and control the defense of such action, then, to the extent arising from such claim, Company will pay reasonable costs, damages, and expenses, including, but not limited to, reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs awarded against or otherwise incurred by Exhibitor hereunder in connection with or arising from any such claim, suit, action or proceeding.

Each party waives its right to a jury trial in any court action arising between the parties, whether under this Agreement or otherwise related to this Agreement, and whether made by claim, counterclaim, third-party claim, or otherwise. The drafting and negotiation of this Agreement has been fully participated in by Company and Exhibitor and, for all purposes, this Agreement shall be conclusively deemed to be jointly drafted by Company and Exhibitor.

Section 12.11 Force Majeure. Unless otherwise agreed in writing between the parties expressly or impliedly, where a party fails to perform one or more of its contractual obligations, the consequences set out herein will follow if and to the extent that that party proves: (a) that its failure to perform was caused by an impediment beyond its reasonable control; (b) that it could not reasonably have been expected to have taken the occurrence of the impediment into account at the time of the execution of the Agreement; and (c) that it could not reasonably have avoided or overcome the effects of the impediment.

Delivery of an executed counterpart of this Agreement, by facsimile, electronic mail in portable document format (.pdf) or by any other electronic means intended to preserve the original graphic and pictorial appearance of a document, has the same effect as delivery of an executed original of this Agreement.
